

Acknowledgements

The Times Research Foundation (TRF) is indebted to the Financial Institutions Reform and Expansion (FIRE-D) Project as sponsored by the Economic Growth Office of the United States Agency for International Development (EG-USAID) for this opportunity to prepare the Policy Options Paper and this draft for Municipal Law for framing new municipal laws by the State Governments in state-specific contexts for the implementation in totality of the provisions of the Constitution (Seventy-fourth Amendment) Act, 1992 and the new compulsions for urban management reforms.

TRF is grateful to Mr. N.N. Khanna, Mr. M. Sankar, Mr. K. Kosalram, Secretaries in the Ministry, Mr. M. Rajamani, Mr. P.K. Pradhan, Joint Secretaries, Mr. Vijay Dev and Mr. S.K. Singh, Directors (UD) and Mr. Subhash Chandra, Under Secretary, Ministry of Urban Development, Government of India for sparing their valuable time for a meeting with the USAID-FIRE officials, the Members of Panel of Experts and the TRF Drafting Team as identified elsewhere.

TRF also places on record its sincere appreciation of the time spared by the Members of the Panel of Experts for a critical review of the Municipal Law as presented hereinafter and the Policy Options Paper at a meeting, at Kolkata, on 5-6 June, 2002 on the basis of the deliberations of which they approved the Consensus Paper which was placed for consideration by the Ministry.

TRF is grateful to Mr. Nabaroon Bhattacharjee, Program Officer and Regional Training Advisor, RUDO-USAID, Mr. Lee Baker, Chief of Party and Mr. Chetan Vaidya, Principal Urban Management Advisor of the FIRE Project for their guidance and Mr. Hitesh Vaidya, Training Specialist, FIRE-D Project for support at all stages of its work. Mr. Baker and Mr. Chetan Vaidya merit special mention for the painstaking efforts, which they put in for reviewing the preliminary drafts of the legislation. TRF recognizes the services rendered by the National Institute of Urban Affairs (NIUA) for publishing this document under the Indo-US FIRE-D project for wider circulation among the state governments, professional institutions and experts.

TRF was fortunate in obtaining the consent of Mr. T.C. Dutt, IAS (Retd.), formerly, Chief Secretary, and State Election Commissioner, Government of West Bengal for serving as the Principal Policy Advisor for this assignment. His contributions for giving concrete shape to the policy agenda for drafting the Specimen Municipal Law having regard to the constitutional, political, socio-economic and administrative considerations have been of immense value. TRF is also grateful to Mr. S. Maitra, formerly, Joint Secretary, Law Department, Government of West Bengal for serving as the Legislative Consultant. His experience in legislative drafting spanning over more than 2 decades followed by 11 extensions by the Government of West Bengal is proof enough that the best available legislative draftsman has contributed his expertise for finalizing this Municipal Law.

Though in-house officers and staff of TRF, this opportunity is taken to acknowledge the valuable services rendered by Mr. B. Roychoudhury, Mr. R. Radhakrishnan, Mr. P.B. Saha, Mr. A.K. Banerjee, Mr. A. Banerjee, Mr. S. Saha and Mr. S. Dutta at all stages of the work involved, and in spite of the long working hours. Mr. S. Sengupta, Research Associate, who joined the team recently has also been of much help at the documentation stage.

TRF earnestly hopes that, with the interest being shown by the Ministry of Urban Development and Poverty Alleviation, Government of India, the State Governments would resume the legislative reform process and carry it forward beyond the conformity legislation passed by 31st May, 1994.

Kolkata
October, 2003

R.M. Kapoor
Chief, Urban Studies Centre
The Times Research Foundation